WEST BARNET Francis Strobridge was born in Albany, July 9, 1840, the oldest of nine children of whom only two, Mrs. B. S. Somers of South Peacham and B. A. Strobridge of Haywards, Cal., are now living. May 3, 1866, he married Mary L. Gilberson of Barnet, who with their two children, Mrs. E. X. Somers and F. Edwin Strobridge, survive him. He was employed in New Castle, N. H., at the time of his marriage, but later for several years was engaged in stone cutting in St. Johnsbury. In 1876 Mr. and Mrs. Strobridge came to West Barnet and bought his father's farm, caring for his mother during her last years. From 1886 to 1888 Mr. St: obridge was engaged in railroad construction on the Pacific Coast for the Pacific Improvement Company of San Francisco, Cal. The remainder of his life was spent in West Barnet where he made many friends. He was an earnest worker for the Presbyterian Church of Foley's Honey and Tur Compound for which for 28 yea:s he was an Elder program was a solo by Miss Lora

Quick on the Trigger With a Snap-Shot Eye

THE crack trapshooter has to be a man with steady nerves and muscles absolutely under control—always ready, at the sudden jerk of a string to swing his gun into place and bring down his clay pigeon. This means trained, not to the minute, but to the split-second. He takes no chances with his nerves.

We present the names of some of these crack shots who smoke Tuxedo. They like to smoke; but they take no chances on a to-bacco that might "throw mem off."
